Durable American Sliding Patio Doors are a valuable addition for every home due to their increased security features compared to typical American systems. Their 1/6" thick steel reinforcement makes the profiles more warp-resistant and the sashes harder to dislodge.

The Sliding Patio Doors open horizontally, requiring minimal space for operation. They can be operated effortlessly, even by children. A triple weatherseal at interlock improves their thermal parameters, and a dedicated chamber for a sliding insect screen makes safeguarding the interior from insects easier.

Expansive glazing used in the system creates bright and airy spaces, filling homes with abundant natural light. With the ability to meet increased safety standards and versatility that allows it to complement the modern and traditional architecture, American Sliding Patio Doors are a match for all homes.
